PARLIAMENT AGAIN IN SESSION

Must Tackle Progressive Legislation in Workers' Insurance Bill

LLOYD-GEORGE FATHERS
NEW, TICKLISH MEASURE

Workingmen, Employers and State Must Contribute to Insurance Fund

LONDON, Oct. 24.—The Parliament of England, prepared to tackle Chancellor Lloyd-George's mutual insurance bill, re-assembled today for the "autumn session."

Providing for a partly compulsory and partly voluntary workingmen's insurance contributed proportionally by workmen, employers and the state, Lloyd-George's bill is considered one of the most progressive pieces of legislation ever introduced into parliament,
but the indications are that the Chancellor of the Exchequer will have a strenuous time in getting the bill through.

Lloyd-George frankly admitted that his bill is imperfect and in need of criticism. He got criticism, much of it of an adverse nature. The working men want more of the load put upon the capitalists, while the latter think their end of the burden is too heavy.

Labor Federation Adopts Plan
for McNamara—More Talesmen Excused

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—The American Federation of Labor, in a statement issued today declares the project of exhibiting moving pictures to provide for the McNamara defense is "humiliating but necessary."

The pictures portraying the arrest of the McNamaras, scenes in the Los Angeles courtroom, and views of prison life, are now being prepared for the Federation, and will be exhibited in Ohio.

CONFESION AND REPORT ARE READ INTO COURT RECORDS

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 24.—The confession of Orrie E. McManigal implicating James McNamara in the exploding wrecking the Los Angeles Times building, and the report of experts appointed by Mayor Alexander, who found that the Times building was destroyed by dynamite, went into the court records today. Newspaper copies for use by the defense in interrogating the veniremen for the purpose of determining their opinions regarding McNamara's guilt or innocence
were introduced by Clarence Darrow and the copies were ordered into the court record.

The morning session was devoid of sensation, two of the veniremen being quickly eliminated, F. J. Mullin being challenged by the defense for cause, after he stated that he believed McNamara to be guilty.

Indians Sign Demand In Ink Made Of Blood

LAYDER, Wyo., Oct. 24.—On the verge of starvation, the Sho-

preparing the strangest petition ever addressed to the authorities at Washington.

Every buck and head of a family living within the bounds of the reservation is signing his

Each Indian brave daubs his taining the petition.

ATHLETICS STILL IN BASEBALL LEAD

Walloped Giants Today With
Score of 4 to 2—Bender
Proved Invincible

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 24.—With Frank Baker more starring as the chief double-maker for New York, Philadelphia today made it 3
to 1 in the world's championship series over the National League leaders. The score today was 4 to 2.

The Athletics batted Matthewson
all over the lot. He was yanked out in the eighth inning and Witte went in as a forlorn hope. It proved forlorn. Matthewson was in trouble throughout the entire game, while Bender, except in the first inning, when New York scored two runs, was invincible.

The score by innings:

DR. COOK IS MOBBED IN COPENHAGEN BY PEOPLE HE FAKED

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 24.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, the discredited discoverer of the North Pole, who was acclaimed as a public hero and decorated by the University of Copenhagen when he returned from the north three years ago, was yesterday
mobbed in the streets here.

The doctor arrived here from the United States, accompanied by his wife, to begin a lecturing tour. A great crowd followed the couple as they left the station, hooting and hissing Cook until he was compelled to rush for safety into a nearby building. A police escort was necessary to protect Dr. and Mrs. Cook on their way to a hotel.

FORMER EDITOR ON TRIAL FOR LIFE

One Hundred Witnesses Called in the Axtell Case in Stockton Today

STOCKTON, Cal., Oct. 24.—The trial of Samuel B. Axtell, former editor of the Lodi Sentinel, for the murder of Charles Sollars, a Lodi ice dealer, opened this morning before Judge Norton. Two big interurban cars were required to transport the witnesses to Stockton from Lodi, over one hundred having been subpoenaed.
Axtell showed no signs of nervousness. The shooting grew out of an automobile accident in which two Lodi teachers were wrecked in Axtell's machine.

It is expected that the defense will attempt to show that Sollars attempted to involve Axtell in a scandal.

BOARD ADOPTED MAP FAVORING ROUTE

Recommendation to the State Highway Commission Was Made This Morning

ROADS OUTLINED BY THE SURVEYOR

Two Routes Joined at Corner of Chapman and North Main Streets

This morning the Board of Supervisors adopted a map presented by County Supervisor McBride of a route to be recommended to the State Highway Commission as the route to be followed in this county by the state in building the state highway. The route does not follow the coast, but is the interior route.

As recommended, the route from the Los Angeles County line to the San Diego County line is as follows:
Beginning at the county line at a point east of Arroyo, the road that touches the south side of Buena Park townsite is followed east on Orangethorpe avenue to the main road between Fullerton and Anaheim. The main road south is then followed through Anaheim, West Orange, and on Main street to Santa Ana. From Santa Ana South Main is followed to Chestnut, and Chestnut is followed to Lyon street, where there is a jog to the road straight into Tustin. The main road through Irvine and San Juan Capistrano is followed to the south county line.

The route from the Riverside line begins at the line in the Santa Ana canyon. The main road is followed down the canyon to Olive and Orange,
coming into Orange on North Glas-
sell, and leaving Orange on West Chapman, joining the through road at the corner of Chapman and North Main.

By this route Fullerton will not be touched, the route along Orangethorpe avenue. Some of the Orange people preferred that the route from Orange to Santa Ana be along La Veta avenue.

The routes recommended by the supervisors are advisory, and will be satisfactory to a large proportion of the residents of the county.

WRITER LOST LIFE SEEKING TO SAVE GRIP FROM FIRE

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 24.—In an effort to rescue his grip from his room at No. 1103 West Seventh street, in which a fire started after midnight,
Frank Hotaling, a noted magazine
and newspaper writer of New York City was burned to death and eighteen other occupants of the house had narrow escapes from a similar fate.

His body was found on the floor,
the clothing burned off and the flesh
charred to a crisp.

Enough of his features remained for identification by the landlady and her daughters.

The fire is supposed to have been caused by a cigarette carelessly thrown aside by Hotaling, who was an inveterate smoker.

THEY OBJECT TO SOLITAIRE DISTRICT

Los Angeles Tried to Tack Imperial to Orange and Riverside

BISHOP SAID HE'D FLOCK ELSEWHERE

Conference Held in Los Angeles Last Night Resulted in Outline

The Los Angeles County delegation had a tight grip on the conference of Southern California legislators held in Los Angeles last night. The Los Angeles men evidently made up their mind to get all they could for Los Angeles County, and it was necessary to secure some of the other Southern California counties in order to get what they wanted.

At least that is the way it looks to Assemblyman Clyde Bishop of Santa Ana, who attended the meeting.

At the last session of the legislature Bishop made a fight to get Orange County designated as a separate senatorial district. At the time the reapportionment bill failed to be passed, and re-apportionment is to be taken up at the special session of the legislature. Last night's conference was for the purpose of getting the Southern California legislators to stand together for whatever apportionment might be selected by the conference.

Assemblyman Bishop was not at all pleased with the turn that was taken.
Instead of proposing to make two senatorial districts out of Orange, Riverside and Imperial counties—that is, Orange for one and Riverside and Imperial for another—the conference
last night voted to make one senatorial district out of the three counties.
That would make the district with a population of 20,000 more than the average senatorial district.

Assemblyman Freeman of Corona and Bishop fought the motion to make the three counties one senatorial district, but it carried.

Senator L. R. Rostbury then announced that all the legislators present would abide by the decision of the conference. Immediately Bishop jumped to his feet and made it plain that he for one was not bound by the conference and would not be. Bishop stated that if the Los Angeles delegation was going to sacrifice the other Southern counties, he for one would proceed to flock with the San Francisco delegation if that were necessary to get a square deal. Bishop told them that he would not take the "poison" they offered him.

Evidently this attitude of Bishop struck the conference as bad medicine for Los Angeles, for the conference voted not to tack Imperial County on to Riverside and Orange, but to leave it where it is with San Diego.

Bishop believes that in the end this county will be made a separate senatorial district.

The Times says:
If the apportionment decided on by the Southern California members of the Legislature at a conference at the Union League last night is adopted,
the south will have four congressmen
and thirty-nine members of the general assembly for the next decade.
While the decision is tentative, in a way, it is believed it will be carried into effect when the Legislature
meets at Sacramento next month.

The work of the sub-committee,
of which Senator Thompson of Alhambra is chairman, was approved with one or two reservations by members who participated. The redistricting of Los Angeles County was not discussed, that being left to the members from this county at a meeting to be held probably next week.

There was no discussion of the legislation that may be proposed in a call. It was deemed unwise to presented on Page Two

RICHESON DEFENSE HAS BEEN OUTLINED

Accused Minister Will Plead Alibi, Deny
Relations With Girl and Produce
Original Battle of Poison.

BOSTON, Oct. 24.—New light is expected in the case of the alleged murder of Miss Avis Linnell by Rev.
Richeson today when the officers will go to Hyannis, the girl's home, to exhume the body. The police are also anxious to secure the bathrobe which the girl was wearing when she was found dying, to ascertain whether the pockets contained the fatal cyanide vial supposed to have been given her by Richeson. If the vial contains another poison, the state's case will fall through. The theory of suicide maintained by defense was hit hard today
when witnesses were found testifying that Miss Linnell made an engagement for the day following her death.

The defense will probably base its case on the grounds of reasonable doubt, as follows: First, Richeson will admit that he was engaged to Avis Linnell, and that when he fell in love with Violet Edmands, the heiress, he was in a quandary as to how to end his engagement with Avis.
Second, the minister will try to show that when he left Hyannis, Avis offered to return his engagement ring.
Third, he will deny any improper relations with Avis, or responsibility for her condition at the time of her death. Fourth, he will claim that the only time he saw Avis recently was at her request to offer her friendly advice. Fifth, he will admit buying cyanide, but will deny that he said he wished it for the purpose of killing a dog. Sixth, he will produce the original bottle of cyanide purchased infact. Seventh, he will aver that he decided not to kill the dog because the Carters, who owned it, were fond of it. Eighth, he will try to establish an alibi. Ninth, he will produce letters showing that Avis regarded the engagement as broken.

BOSTON, Oct. 24.—Col. Thomas Varland Richeson, a farmer of Amherst, Va., and father of the Rev. C.
V. T. Richeson, accused of the murder of Avis Linnell, his former sweetheart, arrived today to assist in his son's defense.

"I believe my son is innocent, but if he is guilty, the law must take its course," declared Col. Richeson. "I have been invited by the Edmandses to share their home, but I have not decided whether it is the proper place for me to go or not."

The young minister still refuses to resign his pulpit. When arrested he wrote his resignation, but withheld it at his attorney's request. Instead he wrote to the church trustees protesting his innocence and "leaving it to the church members to take whatever action they may see fit."

MARE ISLAND SENDS WIRELESS MESSAGE TO WASHINGTON, D. C.

MARE ISLAND, Oct. 24.—A new world's record for long distance wireless was established yesterday morning, when the Mare Island station exchanged messages with the station at Port Meyer, Washington, D. C., a distance of more than 3200 miles. It is claimed that Beljasky's comet made possible this feat. It is estimated that 3000 miles overland is equal to sending a wireless message 9000
miles over the sea.

WOMEN START RECALL ON PRO-SALOON COUNCIL

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 24.—The first use of the recall amendment by women will be started at Perris, twenty saloon faction said the women could not register before January 1, but women sent to Riverside yesterday interviewed the district attorney and the necessary blanks were sent by the county clerk. With the anti-saloon men, the women are numerous enough to defeat the saloons.

negro is cornered in a swamp, and it is thought his body will soon be brought forth, riddled with bullets.

cording to messages received here

heavy, some reports placing it at

JUDGE LINDSEY'S COURT IN DANGER

Famous Juvenile Tribunal in Denver May Go Down
in Consolidation

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 24.—The fate of Judge Ben B. Lindsey's famed juvenile court is still doubtful today,
as the result of the refusal of the Federal Supreme Court to take jurisdiction in a case involving the consolidation of the city and county of Denver, and endless litigation is promised.

Judge Lindsey states that the juvenile court is a state and not a county office, and cannot be abolished save by legislative action. The county authorities, however, contend it is a county court, which, if upheld in the consolidation, will result in the abolition of many county officers.

DR. HYDE SCORES LEGAL VICTORY

Entire First Panel of Jurymen Dismissed Because of Alleged Bias

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 24.—With the calling of the second panel of veniremen, the case of Dr. B. C. Hyde, the alleged "germ poisoner," accused of the murder of Col. Thomas H. Swope, was resumed in the court of Judge
Porterfield here today.

The defense declares that the sustaining of its motion to discharge the entire first panel, by Judge Porterfield, is a big victory for Hyde. The accused man's attorneys say they have been trying for weeks to prove that Marshal Hayes, the officer who summoned the panel, is prejudiced against Hyde. It is expected the jury will be completed by the end of the week.

FIND BICYCLE, TWO ARRESTS

Constable Jackson Located Dismembered Wheel in Mexican's Barn

Constable Jackson has recovered all of C. C. Langley's bicycle, stolen on the night of October 7 from the opera house stairway and he has two Mexicans in jail. As yet he has been unable to connect the two men with the theft of the bicycle, but he is holding the two for investigation.

Yesterday Jackson was informed by boys that they had found the frame of a bicycle in some weeds on the Armstrong place at Old Newport. Jackson searched the premises and in the barn he found the wheels hidden away and the saddle wrapped up in a sack. The place is rented by Mexicans, and they were immediately arrested by Jackson. The men are Manuel Martenero and Pete Pelacio. Langley had given up hope of getting his bicycle back and not two hours before the parts were picked up by the constable he bought a new bicycle.

pare for this until the Governor has announced the scope of legislation at the special session, that being his sole prerogative.

But a poll of the members showed them almost unanimously in favor of a Presidential preference primary to be held in the spring, providing this subject is included in the call.

This fixing of districts in the south narrowed down to the disposition of Imperial County. At present it is attached to San Diego County. There was a proposition to attach it to Riverside County and make a Senatorial district of Orange County alone, the latter county at present being joined with Riverside. Such a change would have given a new district for Senator Estudillo of Riverside to run in and also provide Assemblyman Clyde Bishop of Orange a Senatorship. But it would have left Orange County, with only 34,000 population, out of proportion to the other districts of the south which will have 60,000 or more population.

In addition Orange would have an Assemblyman, because of its population and this would make a district where the Assemblyman and a Senator are elected by the same population—an incongruity that might not

OLD-TIME REMEDY DARKENS THE HAIR

Gives Color, Lustre to Faded and Gray Hair—Dandruff Quickly Removed.

From time immemorial, sage and sulphur have been used for the hair and scalp. Almost everyone knows of the value of such a combination for darkening the hair, for curing dandruff and falling hair, and for making the hair grow.

In olden times the only way to get a hair tonic of this sort was to brew it in the home fireplace, a method which was troublesome and not always satisfactory. Nowadays almost every up-to-date druggist can supply his patrons with a ready-to-use product, skillfully compounded in perfectly equipped laboratories. The Wyeth Chemical Company of New York put up an ideal remedy of this sort, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, and authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

prove in line with the Constitution. But behind it all was the rivalry of Estudillo and Bishop for the joint seat from Riverside and Orange. If this union is continued, and it was so decided, the courtesy of the past directs that Orange have the seat for the next four years.

Consequently the disposition of Imperial County was the key to the whole redistricting, the rest being easy. Although Imperial has but 13,000 population it was given an Assemblyman of its own in consideration of the excess population of Los Angeles County and other counties.

Of the thirty-nine southern members, Los Angeles County will have twenty-four—eight Senators and sixteen Assemblymen. Santa Barbara gets one Assemblyman and a Senator with Ventura; Ventura gets one Assemblyman. San Bernardino gets a Senator and two Assemblymen, an increase of one. San Bernardino is also separated from Inyo, which is thrown into a senatorial district with Tulare County. Riverside gets one Assemblyman and a Senator with Orange. Orange and Imperial have one Assemblyman each, and San Diego two Assemblymen and one Senator.

In Congressmen Los Angeles County gets two and San Bernardino, Riverside, Imperial, Orange and San Diego are combined in a new district.

As Los Angeles, after making two districts, has 70,000 excess population, this excess is combined with a district to be formed of Ventura, Kern, Tulare and Inyo and one or two other counties so that the south will gain a large part of the Fourth district.

That the plan was not finally approved was because the ghost of the Randall bill invaded the session. It was brought back to members that just after the Randall bill was beaten last winter forty-six members of the Assembly entered into an agreement not to commit themselves to any new apportionment until the Assembly had caucused. Because Bishop, Preisker, Bennink and others present had entered that compact they did not finally agree to the apportionment. Randall declined to vote.

The Examiner says: Twenty members of the legislature from Southern California held a conference at the Union League Club last night to formulate legislative measures to be presented at the special session.

Senator N. W. Thompson of Los Angeles presented a plan to have the reapportionment representation for the southern third of the state increased from twenty-five to thirty-nine. At present there are nine senators and sixteen assemblymen, but should this measure be passed the southern third of the state would be represented by thirteen senators and twenty-six assemblymen.

Those present were State Senators John L. Avery, Charles W. Bell, Miguel Estudillo, Lee C. Gates, Leslie R. Hewitt, H. M. Hurd, Louis H. Roseberry and Leroy A. Wright; Assemblymen H. Stanley Benedict, C. G. H. Bennink, Clyde Bishop, Edwin M. Butler, Prescott E. Cogswell, George R. Freeman, William A. Lamb, Henry H. Lyon, D. W. Mott, C. L. Preisker and Charles A. Randall.

A VALUABLE MULE HAD TO BE KILLED

It was discovered Monday morning that a mule owned by C. M. Halderman of Tustin has a broken leg. The fracture was in one of the hind legs behind the upper joint and it is supposed to have been caused by the animal being kicked by the other mule. A veterinary surgeon was called at once, but as nothing could be done, the mule was shot.

Mr. Halderman seems to be very unfortunate, as only this past summer he lost a very valuable team of mules when his barn was destroyed.

President of Panma Fair Co. Told How to Boost State and Exposition

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 24.—An interesting and instructive program marked today's proceedings of the fourteenth annual convention of the League of California Municipalities, now in session here.

Following an exhibition of moving pictures, graphically illustrating the growth of San Francisco since the disaster of 1906, came an address by Charles C. Moore, president of the Panama-Pacific Exposition Company, on the subject "How California Cities can Aid the Exposition."

Moore laid stress on the value of co-operation both before and during the fair, and also pointed out the value to each municipality of boosting its own city and its own products at the exposition. The delegates promised to support the exposition in every manner possible.

EASTLAND IS HELD FOR UPPER COURT

Louis Eastland, a winery employe of Anaheim, had his preliminary examination in the justice's court this morning. He is charged with a felonious attack upon the 7-year-old daughter of L. E. Tripp of Anaheim.

The only witness to the alleged crime was the child. Other members of the family testified in behalf of the prosecution. Attorneys Weisel & Dutton of Anaheim defended Eastland, and Deputy District Attorney Koepsel prosecuted. Eastland denied the charge absolutely.

Justice Cox held Eastland to answer and fixed his bond at $2500.

MAY RETURN TAYLOR CASE

Argued Yesterday That Maintenance Suit Should Be in Superior Court

Los Angeles Times: The marital troubles of Charles D. Taylor, a wealthy Nevada mining man, whose whereabouts are at present unknown, were aired in the circuit court yesterday on the motion interposed in behalf of his wife, Minnie N. Taylor, that her action against her husband for maintenance be sent back to the Superior court of Orange county for trial.

It was argued in behalf of the wife that the Circuit Court has no jurisdiction in an action for maintenance. The case was transferred from the Orange county courts some time ago, on an ex-parte hearing at which the wife was not represented, it is alleged. The plaintiff's attack was based solely on the jurisdiction proposition. The court took the application for transfer under advisement.

Taylor's estate is said to be worth $2,000,000, but his holdings in this state amount to but $40,000, consisting of real estate in and around Santa Ana. His wife's suit for maintenance was filed October 27, 1910, and the allegation against him was that he had treated her cruelly and had failed to provide for her. Among other things it was alleged that in Munich, Germany, in 1909, he abandoned her. The couple were married in Portland, Ore., August 26, 1904.

Another feature of the complaint is that in order to defeat her move to secure maintenance at the hands of her husband, he transferred his real estate in Orange county to Russell T. Joy, who in turn, deeded it to his daughter, Edith Warburton Joy, both living in New York. In addition to an allowance of $2500 a month asked for by the wife, she petitioned the court to appoint a receiver for the property, that the Joys be enjoined from disposing of it, and that the deeds conveying the real estate to them from Taylor be declared null and void.

The court named A. J. Crookshank as receiver, and the California property of Taylor is now in the hands of the court. When the case was ordered transferred to the Circuit Court, on representations of Taylor's attorneys, it was asserted that Taylor is a subject of the King of England, that he lives in Canada, and as a non-resident, is entitled to such transfer.

Ever since the action was begun, Taylor has been fighting his appearance, motions for a time being filed as to summons and complaint, and finally winding up with the removal of the action from the courts of Orange county.

OLD MEN AGAIN TO BE EARTH'S RULERS

English Press Passes on Slogan That Will Arouse Elderly Man to New Life

LONDON, Oct. 24.—"Too young at 60" is the slogan that sent a rejuvenated thrill through the elderly men of London today. The words stood out in stalwart letters in the bill of contents of a morning paper, the editorial page of which presented a "middle-aged philosopher" assuring the world that the recent rule of young men is passing and that the "old man triumphant" is returning to his ancient mastery of the earth.

The new lord mayor of London, says the philosopher, "is 61. The winner of a swimming race in frigid waters the other day is an athlete of 45. Dorchester is rehearsing a new play by Thomas Hardy, who is nearly 72. The man chosen to save the union party, the earl of Halsbury, is 86.

Elderly Coming Back
"The young man who is dreaming in his foot's paradise must bestir himself or he will awake with a shock to find himself struggling among the debris of the flimsy throne on which he has perched since the closing years of the last century.

"Ten years ago the automobile was associated with extreme youth. Today witness the gay old boys swishing along the highways. The increasing age of the taxicab drivers is one of the most marked phenomena in the streets of London.

"In every line of life the aged one is resuming his rightful pre-eminence."

THE GREATEST HE EVER SAW

Walter Johnson's Manager Says That the Olinda Boy Leads Them All

Walter Johnson, the great Washington, D. C. pitcher, who learned to play ball on the Olinda nine of this county, and who pitched many a game for Santa Ana, has received a world of praise since the time he burst into big ball, but perhaps the highest praise yet accorded him comes from the manager of the Washington team, James McAleer, and anyone who knows baseball knows that McAleer knows what he is talking about when he talks baseball.

Sporting life has this: "The greatest pitcher I ever saw," said Manager James McAleer of the Washington American League Club. McAleer referred to Walter Johnson and made the statement above when asked to compare Johnson with the pitchers who have gone and those now pitching.

It is a sweeping statement when one recalls that McAleer's experience covers more than twenty years of big league baseball.

"I guess," said the Youngstown haberdasher, "that I have seen all of them. I've batted against Rusie, Meekin, Breitenstein, Clarkson and a lot of them who were considered the best word in pitching. I've managed the club that had Rube Waddell. I've watched Cheshbro, Young, Joss, Mathewson and Brown, but I've never seen the man I'd for a moment consider Walter Johnson's equal.

"Johnson has Rusie's speed and his control is just good enough. He's as good an all-round player as he is a pitcher. He can hit and field his position. He is far from a poor base runner. He is strong and can go the route and come back.

"What makes me admire Johnson more than anything else is that he relies on the old-time stuff—speed, curves and a change of pace. "He never needs a knuckle ball, a spit-ball, a fade-away or a loop-the-loop, although he can throw anything in the freak line that any other pitcher knows.

"And with it all he's as game as any pitcher that ever lived. He has a mind that is both quick and logical. Some year Walter Johnson will have his share of luck in health and support. When he does he will set a season's record they will all be shooting at for many a year."

"A Day at College"
It is here and has more than filled all expectations, and the big crowd that filled the Bell last night to witness the first night's production, laughed themselves sick. There was not one dull moment from beginning to end. Dorothy Raymond as Winnie Smith, the millionaire's daughter, and in love with Billy Watts, a smart student, possessing beauty, charm and grace, displaying rare talent in portraying her part, and in her musical number, "They Always Follow Me," where she escapes with the chorus from Dennis Rieley, a boy student, she made the hit of the show by leading the company through the entire lower boor of the theatre. Rose Rhen, chaperone to Miss Della, Winnie's sister, played the character to perfection, showing at all times that great personal concern about her precious charge, and making herself as disagreeable to the young girl's plans as possible. Rose Rhen's Miss Miggins would not be better. Peggy Mortimer, as Miss Della Smith, made a very charming young sister to Miss Winnie. Tracy McDermott as Billie Watts is in the right place and his efforts to save the millionaire's daughter from the Wild Man made him "A Hero." Mr. Pringley Smith, the millionaire (very deaf) by Ed. Bellville, was fat in purse but lean in stature and well acted the part of too much money. The fun makers, Geo. Rhen, as Dennis Rieley, and Prof. Never-wasit, by Louie Miller, both of whom are old time favorites in Santa Ana, kept the large audience in a constant roar of laughter. Time and again were they recalled, both of them receiving a hearty reception. Every number was a feature, with complete change of handsome costumes, the settings, all special, and the electric effects beautiful and novel, the music all new and rendered with that snap and go, sending the show along with express train speed. Last but not least, the chorus of eight handsome, singing and dancing beauties, lights of Starland, and every number they had to respond to several times. With all of this, the patrons declared that Doc Roberts never had better pictures than he showed last night. The big show is on tonight and Wednesday. Complete change Thursday, and the Starland company will be at the Bell this week and five nights next week. Only one show a night.

While residents in West Anaheim realize that the Anaheim police have a big task cut out for them in the watching of the large territory under their surveillance, they nevertheless feel that in neglecting to break up the tramp camps in the city limits the officers have neglected an opportunity to get at the bottom of the crime that has been going on in the city and have also neglected to take care of a considerable part of the population depending upon them for protection. The suggestion is made that there should be prompt breaking up of the hanging out places by night visits of the officers and general arrests under the vagrancy law. It is also suggested by West Anaheim people that the city could well afford in the keeping down of crime to provide for a mounted officer to make night trips around the outskirts of the city. With the sugar factories in the county soon closing down they point out that there is going to be need of particularly close watch around the West Anaheim railroad yards, where the unemployed from all over the county may be beating their way on freight trains naturally find a central point for getting together and planning their mischief.

The Cause of Constipation
Constipation is, in some cases, the direct result from a torpid or slow acting Liver, brought about by the withholding of the flow of bile. The condition is commonly allied with more or less indigestion and dyspepsia, partly due to the constipation itself.

Many persons have found it comparatively easy to overcome such conditions with a treatment of Rexall Liver Salts.

In our judgment, we feel that this preparation is remarkably well fitted to overcome these conditions, and recommend them to you with the understanding that any money you may have spent with us for the preparation will be refunded in case there are no beneficial results.

ATTACK MADE ON PREACHER

Someone Makes Insinuations By Unsigned Circular—Used the Mails

ORANGE, Oct. 24.—Yesterday anonymous circulars were sent through the mail and found scattered on the streets. This circular is an attack upon Rev. Bentley, pastor of the First Christian church. In effect the printed matter says:

Rev. Bentley asserted that the water of the Orange water works is so bad that he did not blame men for going to Anaheim to get something to drink. When asked if it drove him to Anaheim he did not reply. Has it come to this? Why not have saloons and keep our money and preachers at home?

The circular contains other statements of like nature, and insinuations of graft.

The circular is but one mark of the hot campaign that is going on in Orange over the proposed water bonds, the election on which comes up November 3, the women not voting.

A hard fight is being made for the bonds and a hard fight against them. S. M. Craddock, an old-timer here, has come out in opposition to the bonds, and his arguments are made clear in a paper that he is circulating, and to which he attaches his name. Craddock's publication is called the "News-Post." He asserts that since the News and Post, the two newspapers published here, are in favor of the bonds it was necessary for him to start a publication on his own hook in order to get a hearing.

WOULD BREAK UP THEIR HOBO CAMPS

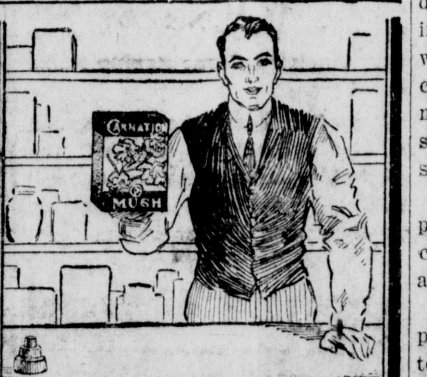

Anaheim Plain Dealer: Uninterrupted permission of tramps and hobos to camp in West Anaheim within the city limits has become not only a source of annoyance to people in the west end of town, but also one of terror.

In that part of the city they scout the idea of Mexicans being responsible for robberies and hold-ups practiced in the town during the last several months with growing freedom and immunity. They point significantly to the tramp camps and charge the responsibility for crime there, backing their assertions with stories of petty thieving not unminged with terrorism practiced at times during the last few months.

In recent weeks the situation has become such in fact that West Anaheim women folk have ceased to go out of doors at night, and a number of them openly declare that it is not safe for a woman to go about in the neighborhood alone at night, much less to go up town into the heart of the city. The men in that part of town are also awake to the danger that lurks among the tramp camps and are refraining in not a few instances from exposing themselves to the danger of hold-ups at night on the streets in the town.

Tramp camps have been maintained on Southern Pacific grounds within the city limits and on Walnut street steadily since last spring. From five to twenty men are in these camps at times and the usual number to be seen hanging about the places, idle throughout the days, is said to be about ten. The campers make no pretense at work and little at begging, although they annoy people in the close proximity of their hanging out places to some extent in this respect. How they gain their living except through thefts at night is beyond the understanding of those who have had occasion to watch them in the course of protecting their property interests.

While residents in West Anaheim realize that the Anaheim police have a big task cut out for them in the watching of the large territory under their surveillance, they nevertheless feel that in neglecting to break up the tramp camps in the city limits the officers have neglected an opportunity to get at the bottom of the crime that has been going on in the city and have also neglected to take care of a considerable part of the population depending upon them for protection. was written to meet a special demand. It is the only one-volume history ever published which gives the whole story of California. Thoroughly indexed, reliable, righting many wrongs, condensed into ten chapters, more interesting than a novel and is, all in all, the most wonderful, fascinating, interesting and valuable work ever published in California. Splendidly bound, size 9 1/2 x 6 1/4, about 400 pages, printed in good readable type and beautifully illustrated.

TURKEY IS TARGY--- ITALY WILL ACT

Expected Italy Will Bombard a 'Progressive Polygamy' Scored in Case of Man Suing for Estate of Wife

PARIS, Oct. 24.—Italy, according to French opinion, no longer will be able to confine the war to Tripoli, and news of the bombardment of a Turkish town elsewhere within a few days would not be surprising. The hope of establishing an armistice for the peaceful arrangement of the compensation to be given by Italy for occupying Tripoli is believed to have been shattered by Turkey's dilatory attitude.

Although Italy has been victorious on the sea coast, it does not dare to venture inland, where large numbers of Turkish troops of undoubted valor are eagerly waiting for battle under favorable conditions.

This deadlock is exasperating to Italy, which expected the war would be ended in a few weeks. It fears Turkey is playing for time in the hope that an European complication will arise to assist in thwarting the Italian plans. If the Italian fleet were to shell a few Turkish towns or islands, it is believed Turkey soon would come to its senses and agree to accept the inevitable with the best possible grace instead of taking advantage of what is considered Italian leniency.

COLORADO JUDGE'S DIVORCE RULING

Expected Italy Will Bombard a 'Progressive Polygamy' Scored in Case of Man Suing for Estate of Wife

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 24.—A decision which if sustained will annul the wedding of Chaloner B. Schley of New York and hundreds of others, was rendered yesterday by Judge John R. Dixon of the County Court, one of the ablest jurists in Colorado.

The case was that of a man who married a woman three days after she was divorced and who, upon her death, less than one year after the divorce, began proceedings in Judge Dixon's court to get a husband's share of her large estate. After a scathing denunciation of divorces, which he termed "progressive polygamy," Judge Dixon decided the man had no standing in court, as the marriage, in defiance of the Colorado law, was null and void and the woman had no husband when she died.

Judge Dixon said divorce was necessary in rare cases, but that those who abuse their privilege to go into the divorce courts are merely polygamists and should be treated as such by the courts.

This is the first time a court has been called upon to fix the status of a husband, or wife, as an heir when the Colorado law preventing marriage within one year was disregarded.

WRITTEN BY "REGISTER" READERS

We begin today a series of editorials by Register readers on the subject: "Why Saloons Should Be Kept Out of the Fifth Supervisorial District."

Some Register reader is going to win a prize of ten dollars ($10) by writing the best editorial of this series.

The first one of the series is written by some one who, evidently, don't want the prize, but simply wants to have a part in the good work. Most of those who write will be actuated by the same motive. But all ought to send in their names, either for publication or merely for our information.

If it is desired that the name be not published say so and the request will be our command.

WE FULLY AGREE

While the following communication is "not intended for publication," there can be no discourtesy in publishing it, as it is anonymous. By the same token it could be entirely ignored; but as it is evidently written in a spirit of sincerity we deem it advisable to print and answer it.

Santa Ana, Cal., Oct. 22, 1911.
Editor Register:—Has it ever occurred to you that a good many of your readers, possibly a strong minority, if not a majority, are not prohibitionists?

Now what is the sense of your slapping our faces every time we open your paper.

Is not our money and patronage as good as that of those people who are prohibitionists, or who, for political or business reasons, hypocritically support that cause?

Are we not entitled to some consideration of our feelings?

Must we consider ourselves law-breakers or near-criminals because we take a glass of beer or wine occasionally?

If you want to print a prohibition paper why don't you say so?

I am not in favor of saloons, but think a little more consideration on your part would be appreciated by a good many of your readers.

This is not intended for publication, so will only sign.

A TAXPAYER.

The writer of the foregoing evidently has not been long a reader of the Register; or else he does not read the paper very fully or carefully; or else he is biased in his construction of what it says editorially; or else he is insincere. We choose to believe and do believe that he simply misunderstands the Register's attitude.

The Register is not a prohibition paper in any political sense; it is not a prohibition paper in the sense of assuming or attempting to deny a man the right, or to interfere with his privilege, of "taking a glass of beer or wine occasionally." But it is emphatically a prohibition paper in the sense of being opposed to the illicit sale of liquor or the granting of liquor licenses in Orange county.

The taking of a glass of wine or beer occasionally by any man is his own personal affair—not a subject for newspaper discussion or for legislation. The question of whether public drinking places shall be licensed in Orange county is distinctly and decidedly a matter for newspaper discussion and for legislation.

The Register has due respect for every man's principles and opinions, and never means to be discourteous in its discussion of questions of public policy.

It seems, however, that the writer of the foregoing communication and the Register are in full accord. The writer says: "I am not in favor of saloons." Neither is the Register. The writer says in effect that he feels that he has a perfect right to "take a glass of beer or wine occasionally." The Register never has questioned and does not question his right to do so.

FITNESS FOR JURY SERVICE

Ere the jury for the trial of the McNamaras at Los Angeles is empaneled the country bids fair to be forced to serious consideration of phases of the problem that have been increasing in gravity during the past decade. All the higher agencies of society are busy creating an electorate as intelligent, well informed and discreet as may be. It is a fundamental principle of democracy that education of the people is vital, and that they are to be made aware of contemporary history and are to be encouraged to

Why Saloons Should Be Kept Out of the Fifth Supervisorial District

"BECAUSE"

By a "Well-Wisher"

Because. This, you say, is a woman's reason. It is. And a woman's reason and a woman's vote will, more than likely, be the reason saloons are kept out of the Fifth.

But the because we mean is a different because. It is because it is good business policy to keep them out.

It is easier to vote them out than to hire constables and justices to keep them down.

No parasite that draws its sustenance from a healthy, wealth-producing tree or vine would be introduced into our orchard or vineyards, simply because we knew we could fumigate and destroy it if it proved harmful.

Why? Because any plant that has never been exposed to the parasite will produce better and cleaner fruit than one that has been exposed and then cleaned. Some of the fruit—we grant it is only a small share—is ruined. Maybe that small percentage means the profits of a year.

So with the saloon parasite—for anything is a parasite that produces nothing and draws its living from the labor of others;—we can regulate it, control it, vote it out, if you wish; still all it has done is harm, and some boys or girls have been ruined, and the value they might have been to themselves, the community, the world at large, is lost. And possibly a family that has been struggling upward, gradually, generation after generation, produces the fruit of perfection only to have it marred, destroyed by this worthless parasite.

GOVERNMENT BY COMMISSION WORKS WONDERS IN MEMPHIS

Achievements of Twenty Months Briefly Summed Up Are Declared to Show It to Be a Tremendous Factor in the Uplift and Progress of the Tennessee City

In connection with the commission form of government which has been in force in Memphis, Tenn., for 20 months it would be impossible to mention every achievement, but the following stand out particularly strong when considered in relation to public needs and demands, says the News-Scimitar:

Tax rate reduced to $1.59—lowest in the history of Memphis.

Collected from delinquent taxes of other years and by closer attention to present taxes money in excess of budget estimate.

Collected in all fee-earning departments more money than the city had ever received in a similar period.

By a compromise with the Old Station Company secured $30,000 worth of property for the city, besides the payment of all costs and attorneys' fees.

For the first time in the history of the city made a trade with banks by which interest was paid on daily balances and less charged on overdrafts. This earned the city $12,000 to $13,000 last year, and will be considerably more this year.

For the first time in the history of the city collected the full amount of turnpike funds due from the county court, amounting to $22,500 annually.

Collected in pole rentals, unsolicited, fully tried by other administrations, the amount of $7,474.60.

Secured the actual construction of subways.

Secured the construction of the first cross-town car line in the history of the city.

Extended the conduit system so as to include a much larger area in the business section of underground wires.

Greatly increased the lighting facilities of the city, in which, however, the city has been greatly handicapped by the slowness of the Consolidated Gas & Electric Company in filling orders.

Made war upon unsightly old "shacks," by which nearly 500 were torn down, and the majority of them replaced by modern buildings.

Ordered many fire-escapes placed in the buildings about the city.

Extended the sewer system to the new territory annexed in September, 1909. The water department is now laying its mains to take care of these sewers.

Repaired and made sanitary all fire engine houses, left in a most deplorable condition by the previous administration, and made the equipment effective.

have views and convictions about it. In the theory of the jury, as an organ of society through which a man's peers pass judgment on his acts, there is nothing that conflicts at all with the premise of democracy demanding intelligence and independence of thought among the people. But in practice there is fast coming to be. Judicial laxity, legislative sentimentality and lawyers' covetousness for professional power have permitted to come to pass a method of empanelling juries which puts a premium on ignorance and indifference to civic issues, and results in giving to counsel for defendants in criminal cases juries that are peculiarly susceptible to the devices of artful special pleaders.

Contrasted with methods of getting juries in Great Britain and her colonies, the American method seems scandalously prolonged, expensive and inefficient, unfair to the common wealth that tolerates it and to tax payers that pay the bills, if not to the parties who abide by its decisions. The ideal juror is a man whose inter-

Errected a fire engine house on Lamar boulevard, a double engine house on McElmore avenue and another fire engine house on Adams avenue and Maiden lane. A fourth new engine house will be built in the neighborhood of Jackson avenue.

Created the office of purchasing agent, through which all requisitions must pass, and which buys everything upon bids, making a saving of thousands of dollars annually.

Errected a mounted police station on Barksdale avenue. The mounted men get around fast, and hold-ups, once so common in the residence section, have practically ceased.

Now erecting a police station at Adams avenue and Second street, which will be the handsomest and most convenient in the South, under a commission of Dave Halle, chairman; D. M. Armstrong, secretary, and H. E. Craft.

Instituted drills of patrolmen under M. J. Kit Deffy, who has developed the force into a body of finely drilled and disciplined men.

Established a traffic squad for Main street, by which trouble in crowded sections has been virtually eliminated.

Have also perfected a system to check automobiles speeding, greatly reducing accidents from that source.

Remodeled the old section of the city hospital, added a third wing, and beautified the surrounding premises.

Remodeled and modernized the market-house on Beale avenue, restoring it to its rightful place as a public convenience.

In the first year laid 37.29 miles of sewers.

Also constructed 30.6 miles of streets and partly paved 9.60 more under the front foot assessment plan, covering 165 streets.

Resurfaced 11.7 miles of streets and hauled and spread gravel upon 85 streets and alleys.

Laid 52.67 miles of five-foot sidewalks, containing 1,390,645 square feet of material.

Each of the foregoing records in 1910 was the greatest in its line in the history of the city.

Street paving and sidewalk laying are now at their height, and will continue until rainy weather sets in. This year contracts have been awarded on 19.6 miles of streets under the front foot assessment law, which will cost approximately $943,769.25. Up to August 1 there had been 29.4 miles of sidewalk laid, as well as a vast amount of other work performed, the full records of which will not be complete until the end of the year.

ests as a citizen has led him to inform himself as fairly as possible as to what has happened and to come to a tentative conclusion awaiting formal presentation of evidence, holding himself in honor bound to form a final judgment in the light of testimony carefully weighed. The juror that is too often permitted to take a place in the box is illiterate, weak, uninformed as to contemporary events, lacking in capacity to deal adequately with the conflicting statements of witnesses, and an easy mark for a specious, sentimental criminal lawyer.

Nor is this all that cries out for reform in the methods of jury selection today. Candidates are challenged or passed, as never formerly, because of their class affiliations, the amount of their property, their ignorance or their knowledge of law, their known or suspected close or remote relations with capital or labor. Here, as so often is to be noted in these times, the system needs men of principle if it is to maintain its proverbial justice and efficacy.—Christian Science Monitor.

Our Washington Letter

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Government officials see a forerunner of the huge traffic to be handled through the Panama Canal in the increase of through freight handled by the Panama railroad.

In the last year, there has been an increase of 23.04 per cent in the tonnage handled by the railroad for revenue purposes. This increase has taken place in the absence of any systematic effort upon the part of the road to increase its business. In fact, those in charge of the canal construction are already complaining that the revenue traffic interferes seriously with the use of the road in connection with the work on the canal.

On the Pacific coast, this freight is handled by two competing steamship lines, who deposit their cargoes at Panama. The Panama railroad transports it across the Isthmus, to Colon, whence it is taken up the coast by steamships owned by the railroad company.

In west-bound freight this process is simply reversed.

A national movement to erect a statue of the late Rear Admiral Winfield Scott Schley is already talked of, and it has now developed that because of objections of the widow, no death mask of the admiral's face was made.

This is regretted by artists and the friends of the late admiral, as the making of a death mask would have insured an exact and true reproduction of the admiral's head and features in any statue cast from it. Soon after the arrival of the body in Washington from New York last week, a naval officer in Washington suggested to Dr. Winfield Schley, son of the admiral, that a death mask be made. The admiral's son approved the suggestion, and so did his sister. The consent of Mrs. Schley, the widow, was secured, and preparations begun for making the mask. Mrs. Schley changed her mind, however, before the preparations were completed. Her wishes were respected.

An order has just been issued by the War Department making the business of being a cook in the American Army more attractive. In the past this has not been regarded as the most desirable job on earth because the regulations required an individual to be both a cook and a soldier. Now the soldier part of the work is cut out.

No longer will the company cooks have to take off their aprons and caps at certain intervals, put on uniforms and go out and learn to shoot. Cooks in the past have had to leave their professional work and pursue the task of trying to be fighting men.

After years of persistent though quiet effort, a new meaning has been imparted to the phrase "the American Navy." The navy of Uncle Sam is today more truly American than ever before, in that it is now manned almost exclusively by citizens of the United States, whereas only a decade or so ago, the "American blue-jacket" was usually an unnaturalized European.

A rule is now in force in the Navy forbidding the enlistment of any but American citizens. Naturalized citizens of foreign birth are accepted, but men born in the United States are much preferred. Foreigners who were in the navy before the rule was promulgated are accepted for re-enlistment, but these men are rapidly disappearing from the warships.

At present more than 95 per cent of the 47,000 sailors who make up the American naval personnel are Americans. In former years the majority of foreigners used to be almost as great. What is more, the average American blue-jacket today is from an inland state. The navy is gathering its men from the farm and the factory, instead of picking up the scum of humanity which loafed along the wharves, unable to make a living on land. In the old days, of course, real seafaring men were required to man the warships, but now that a battleship has become a floating steam and electrical plant, the old time sailor is no longer required.

One great reason which inspired the Navy Department to adopt the policy of weeding out aliens was that of insuring the preservation of confidential information regarding the navy. Foreigners in the navy were regarded with some distrust. To this end, the Japanese valets and mess-boys are being gradually eliminated. Filipino boys are taking their places to a large extent.

The Navy Department did not in any way advertise the fact that aliens were to be barred, for obvious reasons. It is stated that while foreigners of some nationalities were most acceptable on warships, men from other countries were not. To discriminate in favor of one nationality would create much trouble, naval officers realized and this consideration was a large factor in the decision to eliminate the aliens and create a truly "American navy."

American-made films, depicting scenes on the ranches of the West are proving popular in the moving picture theaters in Scotland, according to consular reports received in Washington. The moving picture theaters of Scotland are mostly small. It is stated, and the admission prices charged are from two to four cents. The largest moving picture concern, which operates sixteen theaters in Scotland is installing in each house it controls an apparatus made in Chicago.

For Miss Talbott

With lovely carnations in the parlors, pink and white roses in the library and dainty Cecil Bruners and bride's roses in the dining room, the home of Mrs. E. M. Smiley presented a charming setting recently, for an informal afternoon party given for Miss Zitelka Talbott, who tomorrow becomes the bride of Geo. M. Bacom of Seattle.

The affair was in the nature of a miscellaneous shower and many lovely gifts were received by the prospective bride.

About a dozen of Miss Talbott's close friends were present and as they gathered about the beautifully decorated table in the dining room, there were many warm expressions of affection and good wishes for the young woman who so soon goes to the northern coast city for her new home. Delicious refreshments were served, the color scheme of pink and white being prevalent in the cakes and ice cream, a heart being conspicuous in each serving of the frozen dainty.

How comparatively few are the pupils who realize that they owe any more to their teacher than the mere money they pay for their instruction! Yet who, more than the true, conscientious teacher, gives more of that which money cannot alone pay for? As much, if not more than any other professional, does he give liberally of his time, talent, strength and wealth with the sincerest reward of appreciation and gratitude.

Pupils should be shown these facts by parents and accordingly taught to render proper respect, obedience and gratitude to those into whose charge they have placed that of most vital importance to them.

We should, in fact, try to more broadly appreciate all those who render us self-sacrificing services, in whatsoever capacity, beyond the mere expression we give in dollars and cents.

LOCAL LEAGUE IS HAPPY OVER GOOD NEWS FROM EAST

A large attendance gathered at yesterday afternoon's meeting of the local chapter of the American Woman's League, held in the rest room of the city hall. The members were enthusiastic over information received from headquarters to the effect that all local leagues are now empowered to take subscriptions for magazines and periodicals and forward them to the publishers direct, thus doing away with the roundabout process of sending them to University City.

Other good news received was the following telegram regarding prizes recently taken by the American Woman's League:

Grand Prize for Art
TURIN, Italy, Oct. 24.—The American Woman's League of University City, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A., has been awarded the Grand Prize, the highest award of Europe by the Committee of Awards of the Italian Government, over all the great art potteries of Europe for the finest porcelain in the world. Europe is astounded that barbarian America has sent into its midst the finest art porcelain ever made, the secrets of which have been cherished and guarded for hundreds of years by European governments. France, Germany, England, Austria, Belgium, Japan and China all exhibited the wares of their famous art porcelain works but the Grand Prize was awarded by the committee to the American Woman's League over all competitors.

The Committee of Awards also recommended that the Grand Prize be awarded to Mrs. Adalade Alsop-Robineau, one of the League's Masters in ceramics, personally, but as the Grand Prize is only awarded to exhibits and not individuals it is not yet known whether this award to Mrs. Robineau will be sustained.

Belgium and Germany have requested exhibits from the League for their coming exhibitions.

The American Woman's League has at one stroke transferred the center of art porcelain wares from Europe to America. Millions of dollars of these wares are exported to America yearly at fabulous prices and the great art potteries of the European governments now see a new and dangerous rival.

This award with the honors already conferred on Mons. Taxile Doat, places the League's two great masters, Mons. Doat and Mrs. Robineau, at the head of this art in the world and is attracting the wonder and respect of Europe's art critics. The superb "Scarabe" vase made by Mrs. Robineau last year at University City, was the center of the League's exhibit.

One case of pieces was lost and yet in spite of this the remainder of the League's exhibit won the Grand Prize.

Was the Culprit Himself
A tall, urbane man, with a black mustache, was a guest at a fashionable dinner in New York not long ago, when the lady on his right, after mentioning that she had just returned from a trip to Europe, proceeded to "roast" William Loeb, Jr., the collector of customs for the city. She panned that official to a rich, dark brown, and did it in such a witty manner that the tall, urbane gentleman laughed uproariously. "I think the appropriate death for him," she said, "would be choking with Irish lace—and I'd like to contribute some of the lace for the purpose." After dinner she asked her hostess: "What was the name of the black-mustached man on my left, dear? He talked so intelligently about the custom house." "I should think he would," replied the hostess. "That was Loeb himself!"

TOKIO, Oct. 24.—Dr. Merriam C. The relations of the Japanese and the Koreans, he said, are becoming more friendly, and he believes the assimilation of the two countries possible through Christianity.

LOOK THIS OVER

— IT'S INTERESTING —

Many people suppose that a jeweler's stock is composed entirely of articles of luxury.

Nothing could be further from the truth, and to show how sadly mistaken the general public can be, we will give a list, show how necessary the things we carry, really are. For example:

Watches are the measures of time that we all must have. Chains are needed to safeguard the watches. Link Buttons are needed to hold the cuffs together. Scarf pins hold the folds of the tie. Tie clasps are needed to keep the tie in place. Hat pins are needed to hold the ladies' hats. Engagement rings are absolutely essential. Likewise wedding rings. Clocks are demanded in every home, office and store. Knives, forks, spoons and a host of other table pieces are required in eating. Combs, brushes and mirrors are called for in dressing. And so it goes. Nearly every article we carry is an absolute necessity and likewise nearly all are suitable for gifts for all occasions.

Christmas is coming and it will be well to bear in mind that we have just what you want and what everyone needs.

CHILDREN DEMAND MORE LOVE IN SCHOOL FROM TEACHERS

Helen McGregor Todd Calls on California Women to Use Ballots Well For Guarding of Little Ones

Miss Helen McGregor Todd, state factory inspector of Illinois, who did such splendid work in the recent woman suffrage campaign, and who is keenly alive to the needs of women and children, spoke yesterday before a large audience of Ebell Club women in Los Angeles. She said among other things:

"No human being can give love to more than twenty-five children that she is compelled to be in the room with all day, and it is the need for love and joy that is driving our children out of the schools and into the fields of labor," declared Helen McGregor Todd, state factory inspector of Illinois, before a large audience at the Ebell Club yesterday.

"The joy of living is what these poor children are craving. The mothers are overworked and tired and ignorant of the necessity of demonstrating affection and the teacher must be the one to step in and show this love for which the little child is often starving. The juvenile delinquents, who fill our juvenile courts, the inmates of our reform schools and the fallen girls in our institutions are sensitive creatures who have felt the lack of joy of living; in an effort to satisfy this hunger, they have fallen into the wrong way of satisfying it. Public play grounds, amusements, games, and manual training will go a long way in filling this want."

The majority of children leave school while in the sixth and seventh grades, at the tender age of 14. In many cases this is due to the fact that the school is uninteresting to the child and the curriculum a bore.

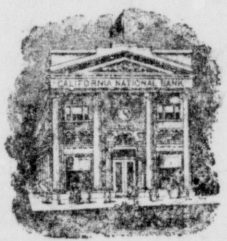

Scalloped Oysters

(Recipe by "Marion Harland")

Crush and roll several handfuls of friable crackers. Put a layer in the bottom of a buttered pudding dish. Wet this with a mixture of oyster liquor and milk, slightly warmed. Next, have a layer of oysters. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, and lay small bits of Cotelene upon them. Then another layer of moistened crumbs, and so on until the dish is full. Let the top layer be of crumbs, thicker than the rest, and beat an egg into the milk you pour over them. Stick bits of Cotelene thickly over it, cover the dish, set it in the oven, bake half an hour; if the dish be large remove the cover, and brown by setting it on the upper grating of oven, or by holding a hot shovel over it.

Warns California Women
"It is to guard against the introduction of these awful conditions that the women of California must be alert. They must see that the schools are not mechanical and that they hold the interest of the child. Do not be content and sit idly by because we have good men and women in our schools who are doing their best."
"Go into your schools; give these people a word of encouragement. If you see a condition that needs changing, see that it is changed. The children in these schools should be happy and the schools things of beauty."
"Votes for women mean roses of light if properly used. The feeling of motherhood should be expressed and a strong public opinion is needed."

THE MAN WITH THE TOUPEE

Might Have Had a Good Head of Hair

"The man who wears a toupee does not like it, but has the courage of his convictions. Nature never intended that the top of the head should be left entirely without protection. A bald head is very susceptible to contraction of colds and neuralgia. Wearing an artificial top piece counteracts this tendency, and, aside from the improvement in the personal appearance, is amply justified."

How much better it would have been had the man, now chronically bald and wearing a toupee, realized earlier in life the approaching danger and devoted a little regular attention to his hair, which would have saved it.

There is a remedy which will absolutely prevent baldness. Loss of hair in nine cases out of ten is unnecessary, being due to dandruff and the germ that causes it. This germ must be destroyed and the accumulations of dandruff checked. Then the hair will not fall out, but instead will grow naturally and luxuriantly.

Newbro's Herpicide is the remedy. It has long been known as the original remedy that kills the dandruff germ and is absolutely dependable.

So reliable is this preparation that all druggists now sell the one dollar size bottles of Herpicide with a binding guarantee to refund money if unsatisfactory.

Herpicide applications may always be obtained at the better barber shops and hair dressing parlors.

Anyone desiring to try Newbro's Herpicide before purchasing a large bottle will receive a nice sample and booklet by sending 10c in postage or silver to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R, Detroit, Mich.

ORVILLE WRIGHT GOT BUSY AS HIS AEROPLANE FELL

KITTY HAWK, N. C., Oct. 24.—Orville Wright, at the Kill Devil Hill camp, miraculously escaped without a scratch yesterday afternoon in one of the most remarkable airplane accidents ever recorded in America. On his second flight the biplane, at a height of fifteen feet, turned a complete somersault backward. While the craft hovered in the air with the aviator hanging head downward, Wright began to twist like a squirrel in a cage.

In the five seconds elapsing before the craft reached the ground, he managed to shift his position with such remarkable agility that when the biplane landed in the sand with the top plane beneath he stood in the center of the craft with his feet safely downward.

The aeroplane was damaged to such an extent that flights will not be resumed until Wednesday.

NEWSPAPER MEN TO HONOR MAJ. BUTT IN LOUISVILLE HOME

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 24.—Probably no stop in the 16,000-mile "swing" will President Taft be asked to give up as much of the honor of an occasion as he will when he comes to Louisville, former home of Maj. Archibald Butt. Plans of the Press Club of Louisville made yesterday afternoon provide for separating "Archie" from the President as soon after their arrival as possible and making him the honor guest of at least one function.

Maj. Butt was formerly a newspaper man here and while the Press Club will join with commercial organizations in giving the President a real Kentucky reception, it was decided in view of past affiliations to give Maj. Butt an entertainment all his own. Just what it will be has not been decided.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

large. The bulk of the receipts was of good sound stock and attracted the attention of prospective buyers. The top figure on Highlands was $1.85, while Salinas were quoted at $2.10.

Sweet potatoes were in light receipt, only 9 sacks being reported from outside. The market was weak. Dealers were willing to dispose of their holdings at a sacrifice, but there was a poor movement.

Onion arrivals were liberal and the market showed much improvement. Dealers asserted that there will be a better movement of the stock from now on and that there will be a material change in the market. Arrivals were 604 sacks.

Green beans were in liberal receipt, but no change was noted in quotations. Lima were in better demand. Arrivals were 1156 sacks.

Fresh fruits, with the exception of apples, were in light receipt. Quotations on most fruits were well sustained.

The display of prize-winning apples attracted considerable attention and several of the large dealers who purchased the stock at Watsonville have arranged the apples in practically the same way that they were displayed at the apple show. The red remains on exhibition are considered by apple men to be the finest ever grown in the state. They captured the sweepstakes prize at the show. The other variety on exhibition are the Bellefleur. The regular offerings of apples were in fair demand, and prices on all varieties remained unchanged. Receipts were 1,262 boxes.

The first persimmons of the season were received, and the light offerings were quoted at $1.25 a box. Christmas cantaloupes were in liberal receipt, but received little attention, due to a few of the other variety being received on the market. It is rather early for this fruit to attract buyers. The stock was offered at $1.75 a crate.

Offerings of pomegranates were liberal, but most of the stock was unripe, and sold around 30 cents a lug box. Good ripe stock was held around $1.25 a lug box.

Grapes were in light receipt and most of the offerings were of unattractive stock. Cornichons were well received at $1.10 a lug box.

There was very little call for the few boxes of Roselle that were on the market. The top figure was 75 cents a lug box.

In the green vegetable line, about the only offerings that were out of the ordinary were cauliflowers and celery, the former was in good call and quoted at $1.75 a case. Good, sound celery was well received at from $1.50 to $2.00 a crate.

BUYING A VASE.

Wertheimer's Clever Coup by Which He Secured the Prize.

The late Charles Wertheimer when asked on one occasion what he considered to be his astute business coup thought for awhile and then told how once when he was walking through a Brighton square he espied through an open window what he knew to be a priceless Chinese vase. He went to the nearest postoffice, examined a local directory and found the name of the resident. Then he called and asked for the gentleman and was shown into the study under the name of "Hamilton." He briefly explained that he was looking for a modest house in Brighton and had taken a fancy to this one. Would the gentleman entertain an offer for the place as it stood—"lock, stock and barrel?"

The owner, a little nonplused, hesitated.

"If your offer is reasonable," interrupted Hamilton, "I will give you an extra thousand."

"Call tomorrow at 10:30, then," replied the owner.

Hamilton did and found him prepared to accept $18,000 for the twenty-two years' unexpired term and the contents of the residence.

Although this was well over market value, Hamilton at once closed, adding the extra thousand, according to promise. As, however, he afterward sold the vase for $35,000, his coup was unmistakable.—London Telegraph.

WHISTLER THE FIGHTER.

The Artist Always Took His Revenge in a Refined Way.

In "Whistler as I Knew Him" Mortimer Menpes, the author, has a good deal to say about Whistler the fighter and his quickness in resenting an affront. He is careful to add that Whistler was always refined in his methods.

While he was severe he was not actually brutal. He never treated his enemies in a coarse way. Any man who had offended him Whistler would rap sharply over the shoulders with his cane, and then by the time the sufferer had recovered the master would be in the next room explaining to every one how he had just felled his enemy.

Once he caught a man with whom he was for the moment enraged washing his face. Without a moment's hesitation Whistler dashed the unfortunate head straight into the basin of water, and while the foe was endeavoring to clear the soap from his eyes to see the cause of this sudden immersion Whistler was in the smoking room setting the men there in a roar with the account of his adventures.

A Fish Story.

"There are as good fish in the sea as ever were taken out of it," remarked Small to Young, who had been refused by Moneybags's daughter.

"Yes, I know. But they are not goldfish."

Circumstances are the rulers of the weak. They are the instruments of the wise.—Samuel Lover.

TALKING IN FIGURES.

Significance of Certain Numbers in the Telegraphers' Code.

"In the telegraphers' code numbers have special significance of which the general public is not aware," remarked a veteran key night the other day. "Most everybody knows that 30 means 'good night,' or the end of a story, but few outside the profession know that 31 is also a code sign. Railroad operators, however, know that this call is a signal to the operator at the other end to come back and repeat train signals to the sending operator. It also has another meaning. 'Train order to be signed by conductor and engine driver.' Nineteen, on the other hand, means that the train order is not to be signed by conductor or engine driver. Twenty-four has also the latter significance on some roads.

"Five is simply an interrogation point and in the vernacular could be translated 'Anything doing?' Thirteen signifies 'Do you understand?' Twenty-five means 'busy,' but nobody seems to know how it came to have that significance unless perhaps it means that the operator is still in the midst of his work, being some distance away from 30.

"Seventy-three means 'best regards,' and newspaper men and operators employ this expression constantly. Of course 23 has come to mean in this numerical language just what it does in ordinary parlance, 'skidoo,' 'vamoose' or 'butt out' or any of the thousand and one other equivalents."—New York Herald.

USED CLUB TO STOP MURDER

Drunken Man Knocked Down
as He Was Cutting Way
Into His House

A timely blow over the head with a club took some of the fight out of Rosalio Barba last evening and gave his family a chance to escape from him. Barba was on a drunken rampage, and was breaking down the door of his house with an ax, declaring he would kill his wife, mother, daughter and son-in-law, who were inside, when one of the Rios brothers tackled him with a club.

Rosalio and his neighbor, Simon Lopez, were together yesterday afternoon, and had been drinking heavily. They reached the point where both wanted to fight, and they seemed not at all particular with whom they fought. Simon pulled out a knife and started after Rosalio, but was interferred with by others present.

Barba then turned his attention to his family, against the members of which he had uttered numerous threats. His wife, mother, daughter and son-in-law, who is named Martinez, locked themselves in the house. Barba got an ax and said he would kill all of them. Rios and other neighbors tried to dissuade him from chopping down the door, but Barba drove them away with the ax. Rios waited an opportunity, and sprang upon Barba with a club. The club landed on the side of the man's head, and for a time he was down and out, giving the family a chance to escape.

By this time a hurry call had brought Policeman Ryan, who had Simon and Barba cornered when Policeman Heard, Sheriff Ruddock and Constable Squires arrived. Simon and Barba fought the officers all the way to jail.

The fracas occurred at 111 Hathaway street.

SURVEY BEGINS FOR ROAD TO ESCONDIDO

OCEANSIDE, Oct. 24.—Engineering work on a road connecting Escondido with the road leading up the San Luis Rey valley from Oceanside to the Warner Ranch country is being done by a party of surveyors in the employ of the county highway commission, who are at work establishing the grade stakes for a route between the Indian reservation at Rincon, at the foot of Palomar mountain, and Valley Center. The survey will probably be able to find a "easier grade than the present one which is steep. Other changes will include a deflection to the west near the site of the Indian church of the Rincon reservation.

The junction of the roads leading to Warner Ranch, by the way of the La Jolla Indian reservation and to Palomar mountains, will be near the C. J. Bailey store at Rincon, formerly known as the Sparkman store.

BAD STOMACH PUT IN ORDER

No Indigestion, Gas, Heartburn or Dyspepsia Five Minutes Later

—If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache—this is indigestion.

A full case of Pape's Diapiesin costs only 50 cents and will thoroughly cure your out-of-order stomach, and leave sufficient about the house in case some one else in the family may suffer from stomach trouble or indigestion.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on these 50-cent cases, then you will understand why dyspepsia trouble of all kinds must go, and why Diapiesin always relieves sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. Diapiesin is harmless and tastes like candy, though each dose contains power sufficient to digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat. Beside, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but, what will please you most is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

This city will have many Diapiesin cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be cranky about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever try a little for indigestion or gastritis or any other stomach misery.

Get some Pape's Diapiesin now, this minute, and forever rid yourself of stomach trouble and indigestion.

ORANGE, Oct. 24.—Yesterday evening an automobile driven by A. C. Tiede, secretary of the Santa Ana Valley Walnut Growers' Association of Santa Ana, was damaged by a Santa Fe freight train at the Chapman street crossing.

The freight was switching in the yards at the crossing. The front of Tiede's machine was caught by the front of a freight car and was dragged along the track for a number of feet. Tiede was not injured.

SAILORS NEARLY CAUGHT BY AN OVERTURNED ICEBERG

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 24.—Within an ace of death when an iceberg in Bering Sea turned over, half a dozen men of the United States revenue cutter Thetis on June 20 just managed to drive the boat to a safe distance as the mountainous mass crashed back to the sea with a mighty roar. The unbalanced berg produced a swell sufficient to overturn the boat and make the Thetis, some distance away, tremble as if struck by a tidal wave. The men in the boat were picked up thoroughly chilled.

The men had been ordered to take the boat for a fresh supply of ice and approaching the handiest of a number of bergs were just preparing to hew off a few chunks when the berg turned over.

BALLOT PAPER CONTRACT LET AT CHEAPER RATES

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 24.—Moffet, Blake & Towne, paper dealers of San Francisco, were awarded to lay the contract to furnish the state with 900 reams of ballot paper, a part of which will be available for use in the Los Angeles election of December 5.

The state is to pay an average of $4.98 per hundred pounds for the paper as against $5.75 which secretary of state Jordan desired to pay the Zellerbach Paper company for ballot paper. The Moffet, Blake and Towne bid was one of seven and the contract will be confirmed by the board of control.

Jordan has learned that he has sufficient ballot paper on hand for the Los Angeles primary and Sacramento regular elections.
